We Sell one Class of Dress Goods The Best—Its a Big Class.

When you buy dress goods—or any other kind of goods, you want the best for the price you pay. Every store knows that, they, seem to forget or ignore it. We Don't.

A little less of quality and a little more of profit is the policy of SOME STORES. NOT OURS. Not with us.

Lack of quality means lack of durability and less of satisfaction. It may not show in the fabric on the counter (that's why it sells) but a little wear shows it.

None of that sort of dress goods for us—or for you if you buy here. This store is your safeguard.

And while we stress quality strongly—never overlook the fact that while our dress goods are first in quality they are also first in style, assortment and price lowness.

An investigation of these items will prove our assertions—if you don't know and are skeptical.

Was a Good Fair.

A goodly crowd of people went to Marshfield last Thursday to attend the fair, and those who went report that it was very good. There was a light rain in the morning which made the track a little sticky but did not prevent them from holding the races just the same.

Altho the fair was held a trifle early in the season for fruits, still there was a good display and this part of the show was better than it was expected it would be.

The attendance on Thursday was something immense, and the grounds were fairly crowded, and it is asserted that many that had intended to go out on that day did not do so on account of the rain that fell.

Adolph Pankow, secretary of the Marshfield fair association, was in the city on Monday and reports that the association came out between fifteen hundred and two thousand dollars ahead, which is certainly considerably better than going a couple of thousand behind, as was the case last year.

Old Man Found Dead.

Last Tuesday a newspaper agent called at the home of John Altman, a man 72 years old, who lived alone near Sherry. Unable to gain admittance after he had rapped at the door the agent looked into the window and saw the old man's foot sticking out of bed. Calling several of the neighbors they broke into the house and found him lying in his bed, dead. His arms were folded and his hands and feet, which were partially exposed, had been eaten by rats. The deceased lived on a little piece of land which belonged to his son in Milwaukee, and had not been seen by anyone for several days. He had no property, and save for a daughter living in Stratford, his family had moved entirely away from Sherry, where he was an old resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Love have moved into the Stephen Slattery residence in the northern part of the city.

SEVERAL ACCIDENTS

Past week an Unusual One for Severe Hurts Among the Boys.

Emil Korneen met with an accident on Friday which will leave him a cripple for life. It being the loss of two fingers and the thumb of the right hand.

The lad, who is only 11 years of age, was working about a circular saw, when his hand came in contact with the saw, cutting off the fingers as stated above. Dr. Rockwell was summoned who dressed the wound and the boy has since been resting easily.

Emil had been working under a permit from the county judge, and it was his intention to quit work on the following day and return to school.

Received a Bad Cut.

Leo Zabawa, who was employed at the Oberlock Bros. Furniture factory, received a bad cut from a circular saw on Friday while at work. The boy's left arm came in contact with the saw in such a manner that the arm was nearly severed at the wrist, both bones being saved thru and the hand hanging only by a part of the flesh on the under side.

The boy was taken home and surgical assistance summoned at once, and Dr. Hengen took charge of the case, assisted by Dr. Waters. After examination it was decided that it might be possible to save the hand, as the large artery passing thru the wrist had not been severed. The hand was put back into place and the tendons joined and fastened, and at last reports the process of healing was going forward nicely, with every evidence of an ultimate cure.

If the hand is saved and the young fellow recovers the use of it, he may consider that he has had about as narrow an escape as ever happens.

Was Seriously Injured.

John Smith of the east side met with a peculiar and severe accident at an early hour Sunday morning. He had been to a party at the August Kurtz home and was on his way home with a number of companions when he was struck by a rig and run over, sustaining injuries that rendered him unconscious for several hours. It seems that when the young people were on their way home it was very dark, and the approaching rig made so little noise that they did not hear anything of it, and one of the thrills struck young Smith on the chest, knocking him to the ground, after which the buggy passed over him.

He was picked up and brought to town by his companions and was still unconscious when his home was reached, but medical assistance was summoned and he has since been getting along fairly well and it is expected that he will soon be all right again.

Has a Bad Eye

John Moss got a particle of iron in his eye on Monday while operating an emery wheel in the plant of the Grand Rapids Foundry Co., which caused him considerable pain until it was removed by a surgeon, the iron being imbedded in the eyeball. He was compelled to lay off for a time on account of the trouble.

Johnson-Nash

Miss Maurine Johnson and James Nash were married on Monday in Denver Col., where Mr. Nash has been spending some time for the benefit of his health.

The wedding was quite a surprise to their friends here altho the relatives knew of the event. Both of the contracting parties are well known here, the bride being the daughter of Mrs. N. Johnson and the groom the son of T. E. Nash. The Tribune unites with their many friends in extending the heartiest of congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Nash are expected home the latter part of October.

Distributed Lots of Cash.

The Advents figure that during the camp meeting which was held in this city during the past two weeks, the sum of $25,000 was spent by those in attendance. This was not all left here in town, but a large share of it was. The grounds contained about 125 tents and much of the time it was almost impossible to find accommodations for all in attendance.

Church Announcement.

Robert Kretlow will preach at the First Moravian church Sunday, Sept. 8th, at the morning and evening services. The evening service will begin at 7:30 and will be conducted in the English language. Sunday school and C. E. will be held at the usual hours.

Change in Harness Shops.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Witter entertained a party of friends on Monday at Birch Lodge. The day was spent very pleasantly by those in attendance.

A number of the friends of Miss Ruby Natwick surprised that young lady on Thursday evening and had a very pleasant time. The evening was spent in playing games and kindred amusements.

Mrs. George M. Hill entertained her Sunday school class on Monday at a picnic, the event being in honor of Nellie Palmatier, who has been a member of the class and who is soon to leave the city. The picnic was held in the grove south of the Northwestern bridge and the young people spent a very pleasant afternoon.

A surprise party was given to Florence Palmatier and Wm. Damon on Friday at the home of the latter. A very enjoyable evening was spent by those present.

At an evening of Miss Angel Boor's friends surprised her at her west side home on Wednesday, the occasion being a fifteenth birthday. The evening, as spent in playing games and the result was a very good time.

Stock Fair Tuesday.

Next Tuesday is the date for the regular monthly stock fair which will be held on the east side market square in this city. The date of the fair is Sept. 10th and should be remembered by those who have anything to dispose of.

Manager John Bull reports that there is a call for more brood 3 or 4 year old culs, also brood toms. Sleep are also in demand, as well as chickens, etc.

The Grand Rapids Browing Co. offers an eighth of beer to the farmer bringing in the largest number of eggs to Gen. T. Rowland on Sept. 10th.

Federation Meeting.

The next regular meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs will be held at the home of Mrs. F. J. Wood on Friday evening September 13, at eight o'clock.

Miss L. E. Stearns of the Wisconsin Free Library Commission will speak on the subject "Regulate your library." This lecture is highly recommended by those who have heard it and we are looking forward to it with pleasure.

Each member may bring one guest. Miss Stearns will also speak to the teachers of the public schools Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the library, on "The Teacher's Responsibility in the Formation of Character."

Tomahawk and Grand Rapids.

The game on Sunday between Tomahawk and Grand Rapids was pretty much of a farce, as during the eighth inning the Tomahawk boys packed up their traps and left the field. The score was 12 to 1 in favor of Grand Rapids and there was no chance of Tomahawk winning, when a decision of umpire Laraine did not suit the Tomahawk boys and they walked off the field without any discussion whatever. It was the intention to play two games with the Tomahawk nine but they did not stay over for Monday's game, which was probably just as well, as there would not have been any turnout to witness an one-sided contest as it promised to be.

The Tomahawk boys came here expecting to show Grand Rapids some points about baseball, and the fact that they were outclassed probably discouraged them.

The Tigers at Berlin.

The Tigers played two games at Berlin last week and won one game and lost one. On Thursday the score was 3 to 2 in favor of Berlin, it being a close contest all the way thru. On Friday, however, the Berlin boys were trimmed up to the queen's taste, the score being 10 to 2 in favor of Grand Rapids. Every man on the team made at least one run and most of them two. There was an show for Berlin at any stage of the game. Bevers pitched for the Tigers on Friday and threw a good game.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold. A. J. Nussbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Daily Drug & Jewelry Co.

Meers, Henry and Will Look departed for Wyoming on Monday where they will enter the employ of a railroad company.

ON THE TRAIL OF THE AMERICAN MISSIONARY

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

LURE OF THE EAST AWAITS JACK TAR AT CHEFOO

Chefoo, China.—Readers of war dispatches know this city mainly as the habitat of "The Chefoo Star," which is not without significance, since many of the most discernible elements of American life are to be found here. A visitor pluming for a sight of the native colors will find them displayed by live actors whose very appearance indicates their character. These bear such names as "The Drovers," "The Stars and Stripes," "The Stars and Stripes," "The Stars and Stripes," etc. Over one of these recruits there lies a larger American flag than that which floats above the consulate on the hill.

THREE AMERICAN MISSIONARIES WHO HAVE BEEN IN CHINA MORE THAN FORTY YEARS.

and American young men, sailors and nurses—about the best, new here every year. The most does its worst by them; for the chief, especially when in league with the most vicious element in American life, is especially skilful in enmeshing western youth. The plight of these young men with their hearts and no doubt their open to them, was not the least of the Hard Knocks for the Y. M. C. A.

Some of the resident Americans, including Consul General Fowler, are devoted to open a clean, harmless resort for the men. One of the Presbyterian missionaries, Rev. H. Corbett, devoted himself tirelessly to the project, spending the greater part of every night down town in the rooms and severely seeing his family for a week at a time. The result was that for several years a Christian club, room and lodginghouse were maintained successfully and made self-sustaining.

boys, most of them from Christian homes, some of them the sons of clergymen, were permitted to go to the docks by hundreds without the slightest interest or solicitude being manifested by the association. Yet, the latter has an imposing department, to which the public contributes liberally, called the naval branch. What is it doing, these men scornfully ask, when it can neglect entirely the men of the second largest American fleet?

As a consequence, they say, of the association's attitude, the Americans in Chefoo, some of whom are not members of any church and had supported the work from patriotic and humanitarian motives, declare that they will no longer give their time and money to it, since the Christian organization which now exists for this purpose refuses to take on the work. Missionary Corbett, however, is the high-toned people of the locality proved to have the usual prejudice against trade, and showed themselves so very exclusive that after a series of snubs the newcomers could endure no longer, and determined to dispose of their residence and quit the neighborhood. But the baffled tradesman did not propose to go without leaving some mark of his resentment, and a huge notice board erected at his gate set

To meet the peculiar conditions of the missionary children, the China inland mission has established at Chefoo a school which, in equipment and efficiency, ranks as the best school in China and Japan. Its teachers are all missionaries of the China inland mission, yet its certificate admits boys into the English universities. It is patronized by missionaries of all bodies throughout the far east, and there are 24 sons of missionaries now enrolled, preparing for college, and 23 daughters of missionaries. The students are required to leave at the age of 15 years. The preparatory department has 57 children under nine years and over five.

This indicates the peculiar circumstances of the missionary's lot. Most of the China inland missionaries dwell in native houses in small interior cities, towns and villages, where there are no other foreigners. For the sake of the health of the children, it is necessary to send them away at this early age. Members of this mission do not have to pay for the instruction or maintenance of their children at Chefoo. The latter place is considered a health resort, and the China inland mission station is situated here. Illness of the missionaries comes for their summer vacation, in order to be with their children. The school has only one month of vacation in hot weather; and it begins its day's routine with a "morning swim" at 5:30.

Despite the rigid school regulations, which, for example, prevent the students from speaking to the Chinese, the youngsters have a good time. Their long vacation, of two months, occurs in midwinter, when, presumably, the forms are frozen up, and they may live in Chinese cities with the minimum of danger to health. This school, it is added, is only one evidence of the completeness of the China inland mission organization; it looks after its more than 800 missionaries with a comprehensive and paternalism such as I have found in no other mission.

A Group of Famous Veterans.

The present official head of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America is still a student of Chefoo. He is the general assembly of the Des Moines, last May, Rev. Dr. Hunter Corbett, veteran missionary who has been in China for more than 40 years, was elected moderator, and he is now visiting the churches throughout the United States. He will return to China in March. Although he has received the highest honors within the gift of his denomination, Dr. Corbett will resume his work of preaching here in a street chapel, in connection with which a museum is maintained, in order to attract the natives. Dr. Corbett also does a great deal of country work.

Another veteran missionary at Chefoo is Rev. Dr. J. U. Hartwell, of the Southern Baptist mission, which denomination maintains work here. Dr. Hartwell has, in nearly half a century of service, made a name for himself as an indefatigable itinerant evangelist, going about through the country, living in huts, traveling by mule, and preaching wherever he could make an opportunity.

A third man famous throughout missionary circles everywhere, as here, is Rev. Dr. Calvin W. Maters, a Presbyterian, whose work has been along educational and literary lines. His translations are a permanent contribution to Chinese literature. He still, like the two associates just mentioned, is strong and busy.

There is scarcely any name better known in Chinese missionary circles than that of the late Rev. Dr. J. Livingston Nevius, eminent as a preacher, author and educator. Dr. Nevius' versatile activities include the importation of many fruits, which he instructed the natives how to grow and use. Now these are an important commodity throughout northern China, and foreigners say that they are indebted for the presence of fruits to Dr. Nevius and other missionaries. Dr. Nevius is buried in the American cemetery, near the Presbyterian compound. Mrs. Nevius, the wife of Dr. Nevius, is still in active service of the Presbyterian board here, conducting two day schools of 50 pupils each, besides doing considerable literary work.

Identifying the Twins.

There were once two fellows in our town that were twin brothers. They looked so much alike that their most intimate friends could not tell them apart. Lem had no teeth and Dave had. Still they looked precisely alike just the same. The only way you could tell them apart was to stick your finger in Lem's mouth and if he bit you it was Dave.—Judge's Library.

Advertising in Japan.

Japan as an advertiser has taken some billboard ideas from America. Worshipers at Buddhist temples invariably wash their hands in a fountain at the entrance before making their applications. Formerly the priests hung towels there. Now the merchants of Tokyo and other cities furnish the temples with free towels, reserving the privilege of printing their advertisements on them.

Devices of Defense.

What could be more perfect defense than the device of the moon? She sinks herself in the water beneath an overhanging rock or bank, leaving only her bill in sight. And that looks like a fallen leaf. You may stand within six feet of her and she will not move, so sure is she that her ruse will succeed.—London Evening Standard.

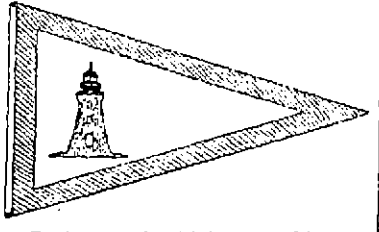

a thrill of horror through the veins of all the blue-blooded residents in the neighborhood. It bore the words: "This desirable residence is for sale or sold. Suitable for a fever hospital or high-class laundry." Ultimately, so the story runs, the place was sold at a sacrifice, the owner cheerfully foregoing a large portion of its value on condition that the house should be exclusively used as a lunatic asylum.

and now is credited as standing second in the list of the nations whose sea-fighting strength places them in the forefront of the world powers, and in commission under its flag there is not a single cannon, not a torpedo, not a machine gun or rifle to deal death to an enemy. The ships are built without turrets, powder magazines or fighting tops, and the sheathing of steel upon their hulls is so thin that a bullet from a boy's cat rifle could almost bore through the wood underneath. But weak as it is, no billowing pirate would be desperate enough to give battle to its sailors; no enemy of the Stars and Stripes will ever sink its ships. It is, above all others, the navy of peace, for it is the lighthouse navy, and its work is for all mankind. Without it the fighting navies of the world when near shore could never turn a propeller after dark, the commerce of the nation would be crippled if not annihilated, and passenger steamers, mail boats and pleasure craft would be at the mercy of the waves and reefs as soon as the sun was obscured in the heavens by the fall of night or the sweep of storm. Without its navy the warning beacons maintained by the lighthouse board would go out on a thousand dangerous coasts and treacherous lakes and river shores. Navigation would be standing still part of the time, and human judgment would shrink and shiver to the proportions that measured it before the peoples of the earth were able to visit one another across the seas that separate their homes.

The principal ships of the light-house establishment are, of course, the lightships, which are moored at various points dangerous to navigation along the ocean coast. But there are scores of other vessels, like the steam tenders, which are employed in delivering to the keepers of the lights such supplies of food, fuel and clothing as they need, and the smaller craft that the keepers, their families and employes use.

Lightships of the first class—92 in number, including those now building—are fine seagoing vessels averaging 350 tons measurement, that are provided with lights, bells and fog whistles. Smaller lightships are maintained on the lakes and rivers. The ocean-going lightships cost in the neighborhood of $50,000 each; those in use on the lakes and rivers a little less. Of the vessels on the Atlantic coast the older and smaller wooden ships are stationed in the bays, gulfs, sounds and similar sheltered waters. Some of these, obsolescent as they are, cost the government as much as $50,000 each. The latest improved models have steel hulls. The lightship at Sandy Hook has a revolving lens light, the first ever used on a lightship in this or any other country. Another lightship, at Cornfield Point, Long Island, was the first electric lighted vessel of its kind to be built anywhere. The Sandy Hook lightship costs about $30,000 a year to maintain. Owing to its immense consumption of fuel, the Cornfield Point ship costs more than $10,000 a year to keep running. The lights of one of these ships will burn more than 1,000 gallons of oil in a year. To keep the four wheels of a lightship sounding just warning requires the expenditure of a ton of coal a day, so one can imagine that to maintain this navy of peace is in its way a luxurious necessity that only a nation with an ample pocketbook could afford.

THE OLD BRIDGE.

ONE IMMORTALIZED BY LONG-FELLOW REPLACED BY NEW.

Massive Granite Structure at Cambridge Which Takes the Place of One on Which the Poet Stood at Midnight.

Could the spirit of Longfellow return it perhaps would be disquieted by the disappearance of the old bridge where the poet loved to linger in the still hours of the night and watch the ebb and flow of the tide and listen to the rippling of the waters, for the old structure which was immortalized in the poem has given place to a modern structure of massive granite which has just been dedicated by the people of Cambridge, Mass. The new bridge, with its towers and abutments, its arches and its piers, bears little resemblance to the historic old West Boston bridge, whose place it takes.

WHAT YOU MAY EXPECT.

Here are a few things you must expect to be told by the natives of the place at which you spend your vacation.

This is the hottest summer we've ever had here.

Things have never been so back here as they are this season.

It ain't never been so wet here before.

There's lots of fish here, but for some reason they ain't biting just now.

If you'd of been here last week you could of pulled 'em out faster'n you could bait your hook.

Oh, yes, there's regular swarms of ducks here every spring and fall.

We're a little crowded just now, but if you'd 'a' come at almost any other time there'd 'a' been lots o' room.

Generally we have lots of vegetables in our garden, but somehow they've all got to be sold out.

Little boy can draw, and he's only ten years old, too.

"Do they pay you for this?"

"Why don't you put a funny face on the moon?"

"Don't you know how to spell?"

"There's a fellow down at the business college who can make the loveliest calligraphic writing with his pen from the paper. You ought to get him to give you some pointers."

"Can you draw your breath? He, he, ha!"—Chicago Journal.

WORTH TRYING FOR CHANGE IN THE MENU.

Cocoa Cookies Popular with Those Who Have a Sweet Tooth—Excellent Plum Pudding Sauce—Good Summer Cutlets.

Cocoa Cookies.—Cream half cup of butter with three-fourths cup of sugar. Add one beaten egg and one-fourth cup of sweet milk. Sift together with two cups of flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoons of baking powder, four tea-poons of dry cocoa, and one teaspoon of cinnamon. Combine wet and dry mixtures. Bake 15 minutes in hot oven.

Grape Jelly.—To seven pounds of grapes add a double handful of juicy cranberries. Make the jelly in the usual way. It will be firm and retain its shape when turned out of the mold.

Plum Pudding.—Sugar.—Cream together a cup of sugar and half a cup of butter. When light and creamy, add the well beaten yolks of four eggs. Stir into this one wine glass of brandy, a pinch of salt, and one large cupful of hot cream. Beat this mixture well. Place in a butter-pan over a fire and stir until it cooks sufficiently to thicken like cream.

Rolls.—One quart of flour, one teaspoon of warm milk, half a teaspoon of good yeast, two eggs, level tablespoonful of sugar, salt to taste. Mix into a soft dough at nine o'clock. Let it rise well, knead thoroughly, and make into small rolls, sprightly slightly with warm water; set to rise again, and bake quickly.

Mother's Muffins.—One-quarter cup melted butter, add two eggs, one tablespoonful sugar, pinch of salt; beat together one teaspoon sweet milk, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder.

Summer Cutlets.—Take half a dozen small cutlets of lamb and stew until thoroughly done, in good stock with a plentiful supply of soup vegetables. Take them out and weight them down with a board until cold. Brush over with glaze and ornament on one side with pretty colored vegetables, and lay the cutlets around the edge with the ornamented side up and garnish the top with chopped aspic jelly.

Simple and Attractive Salads.

An odd and pretty salad is made of celery and apple. Instead of the usual crescents and cubes, the celery and apple are cut in long, narrow straws, mixed lightly with mayonnaise, and garnished with a half a dozen of watercress. Another salad is potato and tomato. The freshly cooked potato is cut in very small pieces, placed in a bowl with a slice of onion. A French dressing is poured over while the potato is warm and whole allowed to stand for two hours in a cool place. When ready to serve a fresh tomato is peeled, carefully scored and filled with the potato mixture, and a large spoonful of cooked dressing, to which whipped cream has been added, placed on top.

Codfish Balls.

Pare six potatoes of medium size, and cut in quarters. Put one cup of raw salt codfish, picked into small pieces, about the potatoes in a saucepan. Pour boiling water about the potatoes, and cook until tender. Drain off the water and set in a saucepan, covered with a cloth, on the back of a stove, to steam for half an hour. Thoroughly mix the potato mixture, and a large spoonful of cooked dressing, to which whipped cream has been added, placed on top.

French Rice Pudding.

Weigh a quarter of a pound of rice, and put it into a pint of milk. Let it simmer until soft and all the milk is soaked up. When nearly cold, add one ounce of butter, the yolks and whites of three eggs, a little sugar, and the grated rind of a lemon. Mix all well together. Butter a plain mold and sprinkle cracker crumbs thickly over the butter, then pour in the rice, bake one hour, turn out of the mold and serve hot.

Prune Pie.

Prunes are excellent baked in a pie. Line a pie plate with pastry, fill with uncooked rice or dried bread crumbs, and bake. When done empty out the rice, and fill with chopped stoned prunes that have been soaked and cooked until tender and rich. Sweeten to suit the taste with sugar, and peel, cover with laticed strips of pastry, and return to the oven to bake the crust. The pie when done should be well browned and juicy.

Ever Try Rhubarb Compote?

Cut rhubarb in pieces and set it on the fire with enough sugar to sweeten it and a very little water; moisten two tablespoonfuls of corn flour with a little water in a basin; when the rhubarb is almost done add the corn flour, boil for a minute or so, then pour into mold; when cold turn into a glass dish and serve with whipped cream.

Home Made Counterpane.

Buy a pair of lace curtains and fasten them together with a strip of lace inserted. The ruffled ends will fall over the sides and ends of the bed. A cambric cover to harmonize with the tone of the room will add to the effect, when placed under the muslin one.

Bread Griddle Cakes.

Soak two cupfuls bread crumbs in two cupfuls of scalding milk over night, having the milk scalding hot when poured over the bread. In the morning rub the bread through a sieve, add a tablespoonful melted butter, the well beaten yolks of two eggs, and a cupful of flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and one teaspoonful salt. Stir the mixture and whip whites of the eggs, and cold milk. If the batter needs thinning, bake on a moderately hot griddle.

FOR THE BOUDOIR

PINCUSHION AND NEEDLE CASE IS PRETTY.

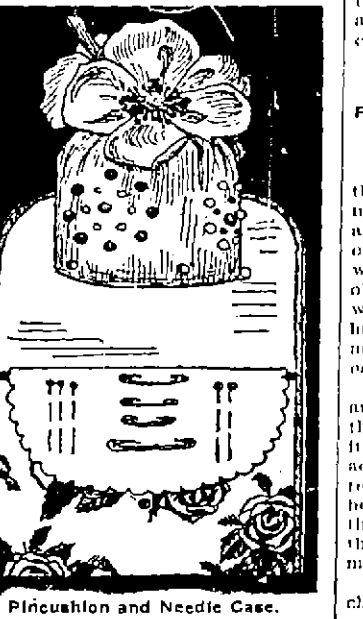

Can Be Made by Any Woman Fond of Fine Needlework—Attractive Occupation for the Summer Days.

The woman who is fond of doing fine hand needlework can often make very pretty and dainty little things without much outlay for material, and this sort of work is quite easy, furnishing attractive occupation for long summer days. The article pictured on this page has the added virtue of being useful.

One's favorite flower may be used as decoration for the old little pincushion shown in the drawing. The cushion may be made of pink satin with wild roses, green satin with almost any flower, violet satin with pansies, or any desired combination.

The body of the cushion was in the form of a sack, having a heavy cardboard base covered with the satin, and the sack neatly stuffed and sewed up at the top. The flowers for the top were cut from satin ribbon, the petals being fitted in the natural flutes of the flower, the stamens and centers being taken from artificial flowers. If intended for a gift, the cushion may be stuck full of pins with fancy heads, forming symmetrical designs.

In the same picture with the pincushion is another article to be made by the fancyworker. It is a needle and pin case, made of the French crepe-corse, decorated with pink flowers and green foliage in natural shades, green ribbon being used for binding. The case had a pocket for tapes, elastic thread, etc., and was provided with pinked flannel pieces for the needles and pins. The flap has rounded corners and fastens with a glove clasp.

LIGHT TRIMMINGS ON HATS.

Fashion's Frown Set on Anything Too Elaborate.

The white hats are many of them made of chip, but others again are made of straw and but a few of felt, but whatever the material, the trimmings are light and airy, flimsy and suggestive of light weight which is essential to summer comfort. One of the latest Parisian fads is for the use of skeletonized flowers, but those of slightly more delicate form are preferred on this side of the sea. A very lovely example of a recent hat of chip is of the rather large, modified mushroom sort and is trimmed extensively with princess lace and great masses of white morning glories. These last flowers are favorites at the present time, both in white and in color. A second hat, which also is of the fine French chip, is faced with moire and is trimmed with big bows of wide moire ribbon and large white roses, but in this instance there is a touch of color found in the foliage, which is of the natural green. One of the prettiest of the crin hats that yet has been noted is trimmed with ronder plumage and is worn with such a big enveloping veil that the details are entirely of a secondary nature. As distinct a novelty as anything the season has brought forth is of pure white straw trimmed with a mass of flowers and their foliage, which are all made of white baubles. The hat has apparently gone forth that the lighter and more airy the better the more fashionable and attractive it is.

To Shorten Thin Dresses.

A simple way to shorten wash linen or crash skirts that have a deep hem at the bottom is to take up a tuck on the inside of the hem. This need not be done on a machine or very particularly new, as the starch used in the laundry will hold it in position, and it can be more easily ripped if the washing shrinks the material.

ORNAMENTS FOR THE HAIR.

Clusters of Currants Are an Innovation—Tassels Also Worn.

Among the new hair ornaments are some of pliable wire fillets, covered with twisted purple velvet and finished with clusters of currants on either side—black over the right ear and white over the left. The latter are made of soft, silver tinsel, while each cluster of fruit is supplemented with a few natural-colored leaves.

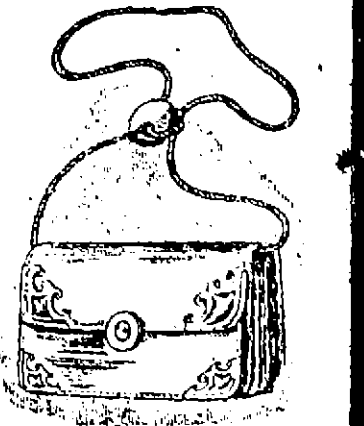

Another innovation for evening wear, which is popular in deference to the craze for tassels, is the introduction of these accessories into the realm of hair ornaments. In some cases a Greek fillet of beaded silver is worn in the front of the hair, the ends of the fillet being hidden by the soft waves and curls of the coiffure, while on either side, a little over each ear, two heavy pendent silver tassels are introduced, which, at a distance, almost convey the effect of a pair of earrings.

Our own lives are robbed of sweetness by bitter thoughts of others.

CORD FOR THE PURSE.

Simple Contrivance That Will Insure Against Loss.

Perhaps one of the most simple and effective ways of attaching a safety cord to a purse is illustrated by the accompanying sketch. It merely consists of a piece of silk cord and a large china bead or a small tin button. The bead or button is attached to one side of the cord, and the other end passed through it to form a loop to keep over the wrist. The two ends are then sewn firmly on to either side of the purse. When the hand is placed through the loop, the lower end of the cord can be pulled through the bead, thus tightening the cord on the wrist, and thereby rendering the loss of the purse almost impossible. If this little precaution were always taken, it would save many a purse from being laid down and forgotten, lost, or perhaps snatched in the street, and the cord, once attached to any purse in a few moments, the little trouble of doing it may save us the annoyance of losing our purse and its contents.

SATIN ON SHEER FABRICS.

Favorite Decoration Seen Upon the Summer Gowns.

Soft satin is more extensively used than ever for trimming sheer summer fabrics, and looks especially well against a background of pink, violet and other shades of the season. The week along the Rue de la Paix is an old yellow organza, the skirt weighted with bands of yellow satin. This luncheon from under a girdle of the same material, embroidered on the upper edge with yellow silk.

The Romanians, Bretons, Chinese and Japanese, and others, in all their variety of color are also favored the trimmings for summer styles, and add charming touches to the soft materials of lustrous finish used for embellishments. When well handled they are gay, with a certain elegance that goes well with the summer months.

Plated steel lace is used upon many charming summer gowns.

Ankle Corsets.

When everybody is leaving for the country with the children, to take long walks and look for new clothes, it is well to make provision for those who have weak ankles, says the Chicago News. Until now mothers have thought a flannel band sufficient, but there is little value in this practice. The flannel band often works loose and if fastened tightly enough to produce a swelling above and below it. The remedy for something to take the place of this has brought out the "ankle corset." These are thin bands of leather, covering the heel and the lower part of the leg and having in front like a boot. The foot in this little covering is well protected in all its movements and little ankles run no risk.

Materials for the Waist.

In selecting material for waist with the circular tucked yoke, a plain fabric without stripe or figure is most suitable as the tucked yoke does not develop poorly in other than plain material. If made of striped material, the lines of the stripes would be all broken up and irregular. In a fabric with figure or flowers scattered over it the effect would not be quite so bad. At the same time, however, the tucks would not show to nearly as much advantage as when plain material is used.

Ventilate to Avoid Germs.

Give the dining-room a good airing every day, winter as well as summer. Germs are everywhere, but in the dining-room they get into the food and thence into our bodies. Towel the floor, above all rooms, must be kept clean and well aired. Ventilate the halls. The stale odor of cooking, which too often greets one coming in out of the fresh air, savors of a third-rate boarding house.

Muscle a Structure.

As statues are made of clay, marble or bronze, and paintings or colors; as houses are made of bricks and stone, so the human body is made of muscles, of sound on top of sound, sound against sound, sound woven in and through sound.—The Delinquent.

The "New" Girl.

There is a sense of humor, of straightforward truthfulness, a lack of false prudery, among the generation of girls growing up today that I think outdoor life and the consequent knowledge of boys' and girls' code may be credited with, and because of this, if I were 15 again or rather 16 today, instead of 25 years ago, I would not wish myself a boy, as I did upon occasion then.—Delinquent.

For the Lingerie Gown.

While the lingerie gown is more fashionable than ever, lace is rarely seen. Irish lace and intricate designs of cluny figure on many of the summer frocks and there is a tendency toward very lavish trimming on linen and muslin gowns. Scarfs of chiffon or crepe de chine are frequently worn with these lingerie dresses.

Marcel Waves.

Take a piece of wood and whittle it into six sticks, each four inches in length. Roll the hair on these and tie up firmly with a linen rag. Leave up two hours. When unrolled the hair will be waved beautifully.

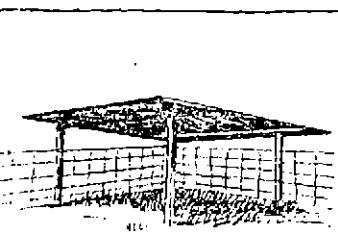

LIVE STOCK

SUMMER SHELTER FOR HOGS.

If You Have Not Provided One Do So Now.

Hogs must have shelter while on pasture. In many localities there is no shade protection from the sun, making artificial shade unnecessary. There are no trees, it would be well to plant them, but in the mean time the hogs must be sheltered from the hot sun.

One plan is to take the farrowing sows to the pasture and put up a suitable supports high enough to allow the hogs to move about under them. If set out a distance from the pasture there is always a place for shade. Besides furnishing a place for the hogs to go during the hottest part of the day, and also affording protection from cold rains in the early fall, the pens are up off of the ground and are less likely to be damaged by water. Another convenient shelter is shown by Farm and Home. It is made as high as necessary to clear the pastures. The back of the pen can be boarded up or put in the place of the corner. When the hogs are left out late in the fall, however, the back and one side should be completely boarded up to give protection on chilly nights or during cold spring rains.

CARE OF MARE AND FOAL.

Little Extra Trouble Will Prove Profitable.

Cows are valuable nowadays. A good one will sell at a good price for about as much as a matured horse three or four years ago. Mr. W. L. Douglan, of some considerable experience about the care of mares and foals, writes to Farm and Home. He says it is well to keep a mare in good condition at all times. You may save the cost of a little help. After it comes it is a little more to get the milk from the mare, not using too much, but something that is the case, you can do well to give her a little help. Thoroughly disinfest the mare, and do it frequently until she is healed. The greatest loss among mares is due to the so-called "milk fever" which results in milk that is swollen, lumpy and frequently finds the mare literally while she is raising the colt. Oats and bran and pasture are the best feed. The mare will learn to eat some oats and bran at an early age and will give a chance, and will do well as a result. If you must work the mare, feed her the bran during the day, letting it to the mother three or four times during that day, if possible. Like to wean my colts at about four months of age. If they have been taught to eat grain, they will make the shift without any loss of flesh or impairment of the growth. A little milk (skim milk is good) helps gradually to wean the colt. Give him at this time. Feed liberally of oats and bran, about all the colt will eat and keep him going in this way until he is a year old, when he should be thrifty and strong, weighing from 500 to 1,000 pounds. He will not be much trouble to you after this time.

The Breed of Cows.
As to the kind of breed of cows to own, every farmer should seriously consider what kind of a farmer he is to be, and what kind of a farm he has; then he can intelligently determine what kind of cows will be best for him to keep. He should consider that this is a great dairy state, second in amount of dairy products, and second in number of dairy farms, but with her many cities and 3,000 creameries and cheese factories, a good market for the dairyman is available in nearly every part of the state; for a good dairy cow will always pay a profit if intelligently handled, and to those who are not in a position to make a profit in beef production, or who wish to make the most profitable use of their land, the dairy cow will especially commend itself.—C. Jacobs.

Hog Cholera Boots.
A farmer living in the northwest, who had a herd infected with hog cholera, wore a pair of boots among the hogs, which boots should have been destroyed before any one got a chance to wear them off the farm. One day he dressed up and put on the boots for a visit to the state experiment station. He was particularly interested in hogs. He climbed over into the different pens and examined the different sows and their litters. In the time after his visit the hog cholera broke out at the station and many good animals were lost. What was worse, the experiments in which the hogs were playing their part were badly disarranged.

Grind Them Up.
Now that nearly every housewife has a meat grinder in her kitchen don't throw away a single bit of outside cabbage leaf, turnip peeling, apple peeling or core, or even potato peeling. Grind them up with celery, onion, turnip, and give them to the hogs. It is surprising how much hogs will eat of things that they have the reputation of never touching. If the feed is cut or ground to convenient sized mouthfuls for them. And remember, they repay it all with eggs.

Look Out for Bloat.
Cut the green fodder for the animals after the dew or rain has dried off. It sometimes causes bloat if fed in large quantities when wet, especially clover and green peas.

The silo "cans" the green stuff. One can be built of concrete as cheaply as of wood, as usually there's only the cement to buy.

Folks who never do any more than they get paid for, never get paid for any more than they do.

GRAZING SHEEP WITH CATTLE.

Too Many of Former Are Not Good for Latter.

It is quite common knowledge among the stockmen that cattle do not do well when considerable numbers of sheep are allowed access to the same pasture. This is due to no dislike which these animals have for each other, but to their different methods of feeding.

Cattle cover considerable territory, selecting the choicest bits of grass and eating closely only when obliged. Sheep on the other hand, move slowly and graze closely as they go. When sheep have access to the good pasture first they will graze it so closely that the cattle cannot secure a good crop of it if they follow them.

If the number of sheep allowed to a certain pasture is relatively small, the difficulty will be experienced. Eight or ten cows may be allowed the range of a pasture which will support 20 head of cattle and a few sheep can be kept in a pasture with dairy cows if it is not grazed too closely.

A very satisfactory method of handling pasture with sheep and cattle is practiced in some portions of southern Ohio and Indiana, says Farm and Home. The pasture is divided into three fields. The cattle are allowed to graze field a until the grass is rather short, when they are turned into field b, and the sheep are turned into a field c.

This allows the sheep to follow the cattle and provides for an interval after the sheep have left before the cattle are turned into the pasture. During this time the grass attains a considerable growth and the effects of the close grazing of the sheep will have passed. This method is also better for the pastures, as it provides for a period of rest, which is necessary to secure the greatest returns from a given area.

FOOD OF THE HORSE.

Its Quality Determines the Improvement of the Animal.

Food is one of the great factors in the improvement of the horse. In importance it stands next to inheritance. The horse's energy is dependent on his food, and the ratio that energy bears to muscular development also comes from the kind and amount of food given. The skilled horseman is a student of food values, and it is impossible for a man to become a skillful breeder without acquiring an intimate knowledge regarding the components of food. In some cases the feed must be produced from another source. The skilled horseman knows that he desires to give food that will produce great muscular development, while in a third case, having enough of these, he desires to feed to give the horse an abundance of energy by which to make use of the frame he has and of the muscles that are fastened upon that frame.

The food of the growing horse must be rich in the elements that make muscle and bone. Such food will contain a large amount of ash, a part of which is lime. The food must also be rich in the element phosphorus. The muscles require a large supply of nitrogen, such as is not found in corn stalks, timothy hay or the grain of corn, but which is found in clover hay, bran and oats. It is claimed that food and environment frequently overbalance the effect of inheritance and make great things possible which never would be possible on ration insufficient in quality or quantity.

THREE AND FOUR HORSE HITCH.

A Suggestion Which Makes Such Arrangement Easy.

The accompanying sketch shows a convenient arrangement for making a three and four-horse hitch. Change can be made in few moments by taking off the single-tree indicated by dotted lines and attaching a double-tree.

The Plan Illustrated.

to tongue about three feet forward from double tree by rod or wire. If desired to bring team closer to tongue this can be done by boring extra holes in long tree, as indicated by arrows and dotted lines.

This arrangement, says Breeder's Gazette, makes a perfect cover for three horses and can be made in a few moments.

SHEEP AND HORSE NOTES.

While half blood horses may do well enough to work, they should never be used for breeding purposes.

Your sheep may need their hoofs trimmed if you didn't attend to them. You notice any of them walking lame?

The best place to mark sheep is on the rump. Venetian red and linseed oil will make a distinctive mark. Never use tar.

Men who do not like sheep should not keep them out at the great prices wouldn't it pay to stretch a point so as to take advantage of the profits along with the other fellows?

Two Litters a Year.

It pays to raise the litters of pigs a season, though few farmers do this. The advantage lies in the double use of the money invested in stock, buildings and appliances. Often it requires no greater expense for hiring labor to raise two litters of pigs than one. Many pig farmers, however, are not well enough supplied with equipment to dare risk the raising of pigs in the winter. The greatest obstacle they find is the lack of a protein feed in the fall and winter. This problem should be worked out on as many farms as possible on account of the added profit.

Let us not exaggerate about our farming for the sake of making a spread. If ours is the best farm and we the best farmer, every one will know it, and if not, all our talk about it won't make it so.

Most of a man's troubles are ahead of him, and it is not that he never catches up with them.

Do not breed from mares or horses which, having been bred, produced bad colts.

FRUIT ALWAYS GOOD

MANY WAYS OF SERVING THE BLACKBERRY.

Has Valuable Medicinal Qualities, as Well as Being Always Appetizing—Makes Excellent Catsup If Properly Prepared.

The good old blackberry has a pedigree behind it and medicinal qualities recognized and appreciated by ancients and moderns. While most fruits are laxatives, the blackberry, fruit, leaves and roots alike, is among the more valued astringents. Blackberry wine ranks high as a tonic, containing as it does a large amount of iron. One of the most approved remedies in case of dysentery, while jams and preserves furnish a throat remedy that requires no urging upon the patient. From the fresh young blackberry comes a thick syrup is expressed, valuable for throat, mouth and eye troubles. Made into a vinegar, the blackberry furnishes one of the most refreshing and cooling of summer drinks.

Blackberry Vinegar.—To make the vinegar, mash the berries to a pulp in an earthen or stoneware vessel. Add good elder vinegar to cover well, and stand in the sun during the day, and in the cellar over night, stirring occasionally. The next morning strain and add the same amount of fresh berries. Crush and cover the whole pulp with the strained juice, and set in the sun again through the day and the cellar at night. The third day strain and to each quart of the juice allow one pint of water and five pounds sugar. Heat slowly to the boiling point, skim, and when it boils strain and bottle, sealing airtight.

Blackberry Catsup.—Cover mashed berries with boiling water, simmer 15 minutes, press again and strain. Allow for each quart juice a half teaspoonful each mace, cinnamon, pepper and white mustard. Cook down to about a quart of the original quantity, and vinegar (must) to make strength and consistency required, then bottle and seal white hot.

Blackberry Jam.—Look over a gallon of blackberries, wash and drain. Put in a preserving kettle, pour for a pint of water and cook until soft, stirring and mashing with a wooden spoon to break up the fruit. Take away the water, and cook for an hour from the fire and press through a wire sieve into a stone jar. Do not use tin. Stir this pulp thoroughly. Take a quart of the pulp and put in a kettle with a quart of sugar measured level, and previously heated in the oven. Bring to a boil, cook rapidly for 15 to 20 minutes, until it jellies when dropped in a cold saucer. Pour into small jars and when cold seal. Repeat the cooking with another quart of the pulp until all has been used. The jam is easier and better prepared a quart at a time. It is a good thing to have on hand to prepare the berries one day, set away in the cellar and make the jam in the cool of the next morning.

Serving Fruit.
Fruit may be served on a large round flat dish or fruit bowl or fruit dish. It is very pretty to use the natural leaves, if they can be procured, for garnishing the dish. The fruit should be passed and each person be given a fruit plate and fruit knife and finger bowl. The finger bowl is placed on the fruit plate and should be lifted and set to one's left before helping one's self to fruit. A nice way to eat an orange is to cut it in half and eat with a spoon. Plums, peaches and pears are eaten from the fingers; bananas are eaten from the skin. Pineapple is usually pared, the eyes taken out, the flesh picked apart with a silver fork, piled in a fruit dish and sugared and then served in a dessert plate and eaten with a spoon or a fork.

Plum Pudding Jelly.
Put one-half cup gelatin in a cup of cold water and soak one-half hour. Heat one pint milk in a double boiler. When hot dissolve one cup sugar in it and 1½ ounces melted chocolate. Put one heaping cup stoned raisins, one cup washed currants, one-half cup sliced citron, one spoon cassia, one of cloves into a very little warm water on the stove and melt. When the milk and chocolate are well mixed pour them over the gelatin and strain into a bowl. As soon as it begins to grow firm stir in the fruit and put in a mold, turn out on a platter and surround with whipped cream.

Cucumber Pickles.
Wash and carefully dry 100 tiny cucumbers; place in a jar; put sufficient water in porcelain kettle to cover cucumbers. When boiling hot stir to salt enough to make salty to taste. Pour this over cucumbers; let it stand 24 hours; wipe and put in jars. Put enough vinegar in kettle to cover them; add one onion, sliced, 12 whole cloves, 1½ ounces of mustard seed and three blades of mace. Let come to boiling point; pour over the pickles; add three small peppers; place a tablespoon of grated horseradish and sliced onion on top.

Airing Linens.
Linen should be given a thorough airing every now and then, most thoroughly of all, of course, just after they have come from the laundress. Plenty of light and air, as well as soap and water are necessary to keep linen in spotless condition, for what occult reason only some one wise in the law of physics can tell. But the results will tell their own tale—airings are the best preventives of "freckles" and mold and mildew.

Cleaning Fruit Cans.
Tops of fruit cans can be cleaned if they are placed in sour milk or vinegar, and left until the mold comes off easily, when they are washed in water. They should also be scrubbed with a brush to clean the grooves in the sides of the lid.

Preserving a Broom.
To preserve brooms dip them for a minute or two in a pan of boiling soda once a week, which makes them tough and pliable. A carpet wears much longer if swept with such a broom.

Chop Suey.

PUT IT IN GOOD LIGHT.

One Comforting Thought in the Death of the Chickens.

A lady who had recently moved to the suburbs was very fond of her first brood of chickens. Going out one afternoon she left the household in charge of her eight-year-old boy. Before her return a thunder-storm came on. The youngster forgot the chickens during the storm, and was dismayed after it passed to find that half of them had been drowned. Though fearing the wrath to come, he thought best to make a clean breast of the calamity, rather than leave it to be discovered.

"Mamma," he said, brightly, when his mother had returned, "mamma, six of the chickens are dead."

"Dead?" cried his mother. "Six! How did they die?"

"The boy saw his chance."

"I think—I think they died happy," he said.—Harper's Weekly.

FOR SELFISH ENDS.

The Efforts Being Made by the American Medical Association.

The Political activity of the American Medical Association has become so pronounced as to cause comment in political circles especially as the the avowed purpose of the Doctors of the "Regular" or "Dispensing" school of medicine is chiefly composed, is to secure the passage of such laws as will not only prevent the sale of so-called "Patent" medicines, but will restrict the practice of medicine and healing to the "schools" now recognized. This in many states would prevent the growing practice of Osteopathy, and in nearly every state would prevent the practice of the Christian Science and mental science belief from practicing those sciences in which the faith of so many intelligent people is so firmly rooted.

The American Medical Association has a "Committee on Legislation," and the committee has correspondents in practically every township—some 15,000 correspondents in all. This committee at the last session of the American Medical Association held in June of this year expressed a hope that a larger number of physicians than heretofore will offer themselves as candidates for Congress at the first opportunity. In its annual report this committee said: "To meet the growing demands of the moment, however, particularly if the work of active participation in State legislation is undertaken, a larger clerical force must be employed."

This is almost the first time in the history of the United States that any organized class has frankly avowed the purpose of capturing legislatures and dominating legislation in their own selfish interests.

The American Medical Association has about 65,000 members of whom 27,000 are "fully constituted members" and the rest are members because of their affiliation with state or local societies. The Association owns real estate in Chicago valued at $111,751.61 and in total assets are $217,587.81. Its liabilities at the time of the annual report which was made at the June meeting, amounted to only $21,506. The excess of assets over liabilities is increasing at the rate of about $30,000 a year, and the purpose of the organization is to dominate the field of medicine, and by crushing all competitors by securing the passage of prohibitory legislation, to keep all of the people of the United States to pay a doctor's fee every time the most simple remedy is needed.

Puzzled.

The bard from the city had sold sufficient verses to spend a week in a new boarding house. Waiting on the swarms of June bugs and mosquitoes the bard sat penning his lines by the yellow light of a kerosene lamp.

"How I love this madrigal!" he mused to himself.

The horny-handed farmer, who sat greasing his boots, looked up in surprise at the poet's words.

"Gracious!" he drawled. "Where is she?"

"Who?" asked the astonished bard.

"Why, the gal you just said you loved."

Enthusiastic Nature Lover (to Reformed Tramp)—Ah, my friend, how well you must know the face of nature, and know it in all its moods. Have you ever seen the sun sinking in such a glorious manner as I saw it from the whole horizon with its passionate fire? Have you seen the mist gliding like a specter down the shrinking hillside, or the pale moon struggling to shake off the grip of the ragged storm cloud?

Reformed Tramp—No, sir; not since I signed the pledge.

BAD DREAMS

Frequently Due to Coffee Drinking.

One of the common symptoms of coffee poisoning is the bad dreams that spoil what should be restful sleep. A man who found the reason says:

"Formerly I was a slave to coffee. I was like a morphia fiend, could not sleep at night, would roll and toss in my bed and when I did get to sleep was disturbed by dreams and bogbodies, would wake up with headaches and feel bad all day, so nervous I could not attend to business. My writing looked like bird tracks, I had sour belchings from the stomach, indigestion, heartburn and palpitation of the heart, constipation, irregularity of the kidneys, etc.

"Indeed, I began to feel I had all the troubles that human flesh could suffer, but when a friend advised me to leave off coffee I felt as if he had insulted me. I could not bear the idea, it had such a hold on me and I refused to believe the cause.

"But it turned out that no advice was ever given at a more needed time for I finally consented to try Postum and with the going of coffee and the coming of Postum all my troubles have gone and health has returned. I eat and sleep well now, nerves steadied down and I write as fast (as you can see), can attend to business again and rejoice that I am free from the monster coffee."

Ten days' trial of Postum in place of coffee will bring sound, restful, refreshing sleep. "There's a Reason," read "The Road to Wellville" in 100 pages. Some physicians call it "a little health classic."

WHAT THE WOMEN WORE.

Of Course the Story Teller Didn't Really Mean Just That.

A gentleman recently returned from the quiet little island resort Ocean City, has a tale to tell of conditions that are really sensational. And the worst of it was that he did not know they were sensational at all. He was out calling the other evening, and the conversation started with the shrill voice of a woman, who, the returned wanderer said, was to be found in great quantities at the summer resort. Then he told about the habit everybody down there had contracted of going without hats. This is the way he told it to an interested company:

"You see everybody down there going about just the same. The men never wear coats; they go about in their shirts and trousers, and the women are just like them."

"I take great pleasure in informing you that I was a sufferer of eczema in a very bad form for the past three years. I consulted and treated with a number of physicians in Chicago, but to no avail. I commenced using the Cuticura Remedies, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Tablets, three months ago, and today I am perfectly well, the disease having left me entirely. I cannot recommend the Cuticura Remedies too highly to anyone suffering with the disease that I have had. Mrs. Florence E. Atwood, 18 Crilly Place, Chicago, Ill., October 2, 1905. Withness: L. S. President Castro's Consent.

Many stories have been told of Cipriano Castro, president of Venezuela, and of his monumental conceit. During the Venezuelan war the fall of Port Arthur was being explained to him.

"Pshaw!" he exclaimed. "With 500 Venezuelans I could have taken it in four days."

"With a thousand, in one day, your excellency," said the diplomatic representative of a European power.

Castro was so advised as what was intended to be a sarcasm. It is said, the diplomat succeeded next day in securing satisfaction of a claim that his government had been vainly pressing for years.

Sheer white goods, in fact, any fine wash goods when new, owe much of their attractiveness to the way they are laundered, this being done in a manner to enhance their textile beauty. Home laundering would be equally satisfactory if proper attention was given to starching, the first essential being good Starch, which has sufficient strength to stiffen, without thickening the goods. Try Defiance Starch and you will be pleasantly surprised at the improved appearance of your work.

Horrible Example.

"My dear," said Mrs. Strongmind, "I want you to accompany me to the town hall to-morrow evening."

"What for?" queried the meek and lowly other half of the combine.

"and I want you to sit on the platform and pose as one of the illustrations."

The Motor Face.

A few days ago a well-known personage was motoring in Derbyshire when a policeman stopped him, relates the London Tatler.

"You'll have to take off that mask," said the officer. "It's frightening everyone who sees it."

"But I'm not wearing one," explained the unfortunate offender.

No Peace Conference.

"Are you going to strike me?" asked the little boy, as he truthfully gazed upon the unbridled shingle.

"That's just what I'm going to do."

"Can't we arbitrate, but before you strike?"

"I am just going to arbitrate," said, as the shingle descended, and raised a cloud of dust from the seat of a pair of "bumblers." "I am just going to arbitrate, my son, and this shingle is the board of arbitration."

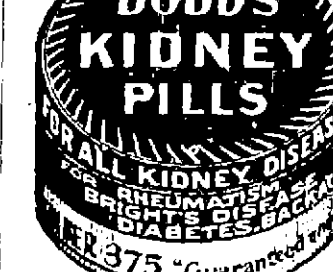

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right Starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only does not improve the fabric, but actually ruins the fine quality of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Defiance Starch, as it can be applied much more thinly because of its greater strength than other makes.

State Fair Attractions.

A tremendous attendance of Wisconsin people is expected at the Wisconsin State Fair, to be held at Milwaukee, opening Monday, September 9, and closing Friday, September 13. The Wisconsin State Board of Agriculture has made unusual plans to provide an all-around exhibit for the benefit of the people of the state and they are looking for a larger attendance from every county in Wisconsin than ever before. The fair opens at an exceptionally good season of the year when farmers can leave their work for a week of such recreation and educational benefit as may be obtained by attending the great state exhibit.

It is going to be a particular pleasure to attend the fair this year because of the splendid condition of the grounds and the largely improved facilities for handling exhibits. Many acres of new flower space have been secured by the erection of new buildings and it is gratifying to report that all of the additional space has been taken by exhibitors, many of whom have never before exhibited at the State Fair. For the stock breeder there is a great treat in store because of the completeness of the exhibit that will be made in those departments. The mammoth new cattle barn will be filled with the best cattle that Wisconsin produces. The sheep exhibit will also be unusually fine this year, for the first time, the sheep judging will be conducted in the new pavilion erected for that purpose, having a seating capacity of one thousand and making it possible to judge sheep indoors both day and evening. The dairy and cheese exhibits will also be exceptionally complete and instructive.

There will be new things to see on every hand and wonderfully attractive special events, including the famous School Airship which made such a fine record at the State Fair a year ago. Amusement will be made every afternoon, the weather permitting. Unusual interest centers in the monster fireworks spectacle to be given in the evening, entitled "The Destruction of Moscow." It promises to be the most spectacular display of fireworks ever seen in Wisconsin. To duplicate the various scenes more than 200 people are employed and a large amount of stage setting. For the vaudeville shows there are such special features as the famous Nelson family, the Utah Japanese troupe, the Laurent trio, and other acts especially secured for the fair.

Every day will be a banner day at the fair, but on Wednesday, "Wisconsin Day," and Thursday, "Milwaukee Day," programs of special attractiveness have been prepared and an attendance of thousands of people is expected. "Flowerland" at school children will be the guests of the fair association on Monday, the opening day.

Where is She?

Points have sung, preachers and moralists have discussed, and the people have applauded, "Where is my wandering boy tonight," and in the enthusiasm for the welfare of the boy, the wandering girl has pretty nearly been lost sight of. There is no line in this issue of such importance as "Where is my girl tonight." Is she on the street corner jolly with some escapade, or at the depot to catch on or is she somewhere else in the company of some one whose reputation would not permit of his being invited to her home.

Where is she, anyway? That is the question that the mother ought not only to ask, but to find out. And the girls. They should not go anywhere or with anyone that they are ashamed to tell their mothers about. It is an old story, frequently told, but none the less important. When the mothers and daughters become confidential chums, there will be no world any better, and the mothers will know where their girl is at all times.

Parents who neglected and fail to have their children attend school regularly are liable to a fine from $5 to $50 every time a complaint is lodged, under the change in the law passed by the last legislature. Children between ages of 7 and 11 years and from 11 to 16 when not employed, shall attend school not less than 8 months of 20 days each during the school year in towns and villages at least 6 months. The time for beginning attendance shall be not later than the second month of school except in cities of the first class, when they shall start at the beginning of the year. The law does not apply to children mentally or physically disabled provided they are supplied with a certificate from a physician or, in the rural districts where they live two miles or over from the school house, unless transportation is furnished. The district attorney must investigate and prosecute.

ROAD DUST REMEDY.

See Salt and Sea Water Used as a Cheap Method.

Consul D. L. Murphy, writing from Bordeaux, says that considerable attention has been attracted of late to the problem of reducing road dust, which is not only inconvenient and unpleasant, but has been found deleterious to health. The Medical Society of Bordeaux called attention to the evil, and from this cause and the danger and cost of dust, the remedy of sea water, which is not only convenient and pleasant, but has been found deleterious to health. The Medical Society of Bordeaux called attention to the evil, and from this cause and the danger and cost of dust, the remedy of sea water, which is not only convenient and pleasant, but has been found deleterious to health.

Dr. Carl points out that these salts abound in sea water, from which it is evaporated in great shallow trays by the rays of the sun the different salts crystallize in order of solubility, chloride of sodium being the first to appear, while the others, more soluble, accumulate in the remaining water. A few quarts of this "mother sea water," having no value, mixed with a ton of ordinary water, Dr. Carl declares, will be found most effective in keeping the dust and preventing its dissemination. The expense would seem to be trifling. No disagreeable odors would offend the nostrils and no deleterious effects follow its use.

In American places not far from the sea the method advocated by Dr. Carl might be found both inexpensive and beneficial.

GREAT NATIONAL HIGHWAY.

Entrepreneurial Ambition Plans One Between Chicago and New York. Dr. Ferdinand S. Chapin and H. Star and Michaels of Chicago arrived recently at New York after receiving in an automobile 4,000 miles seeking a route for a national highway between Chicago and New York. They left their city on Sept. 15 and since then have been surveying roads, studying the soil of which they are composed, and measuring the surrounding country, marking on their maps the location of gravel pits and quarries and gathering material for a presentation to congress of a proposition that the government place its mark of approval on and give aid to the construction of a national highway between the two cities, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Dr. Chapin is a young man of wealth. He is an enthusiastic automobilist who does not believe in exceeding the speed limit. He is not interested in automobile races, although he is much interested in the development of the gas engine and the storage battery. He believes that with a highway that will furnish good traveling across half the continent the various states will then concentrate their good roads money into road building, and that highway and that eventually travel by automobile will be common between distant points, and that the farms will be able to assert their independence of the railroads as gasoline and electric vehicles become cheaper and more fitted to the demands of farmers.

Dr. Chapin's trip to New York has provided him with a set of field notes so complete that he believes congress cannot fail to be interested in them. They include conditions of soil, grade, percentages, location of gravel pits, stone quarries, stone deposits, suggestions for roads that will feed the main highway and much general information valuable to road construction experts. Dr. Chapin when he has finished with his survey will present his maps and materials to representatives in congress and have them taken up by the committee. When his plan has the stamp of approval of the government the action for a highway will be started in the state legislatures.

Practical Illustration of Economy.

The following interesting item is from a personal letter to the editor of the Good House Magazine from W. W. Crosby, chief engineer of the Maryland geological survey. As it illustrates in a practical way the economy of an improved road we take the liberty of printing the extract referred to. It serves to show the farmer what a good road really means.

Just I opened your letter a letter from Helen George's party came in. Last year we built nearly four miles of road in three different sections of this county, one of which was on the road between Washington and Hyattsville. My call this morning stated in the course of his conversation that a prominent resident near Hyattsville told him only the other day that, while this mile which we improved had your need to be almost the worst stretch of road between his place and the city of Washington, now whenever he sent a load of produce into the city he sent it to his farm two horses out of the team as soon as it reached the near end of our improved section and he was now, he said, beginning to realize in a more substantial and intimate way than ever before what the economy of the country roads according to modern methods means to the individual farmer.

Among those from this vicinity to attend the fair at Marshfield were Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Peterson, A. Pann, Ed. Dunn, G. E. McKee and Wm. Elbert. All report a good time mixed with considerable information in the stock line. The new school house voted for at the last school meeting is progressing as well as could be expected under the circumstances prevalent of scarce labor and material. The building will be 30x40 ft., of brick veneer, and is supposed to present a very respectable appearance when finished, which was to have been by Oct. 1. It is possible that it may be at this date and thus in no wise retard the regular opening of school for the fall term. The school board has been aided by the committee on building and both bodies of men have worked harmoniously and thus to advantage.

Albert Ruder and the Huston brothers have arrived at an amicable settlement of their differences and the suit which the former started against the latter for damages to his buggy has been withdrawn. It will be remembered that some time ago Mr. Ruder lost Andrew and Henry Huston arrested for assaulting him and taking a bag of feed out of his buggy, the defendants being found guilty and fined. Ruder then began a civil suit against them for damaging his buggy and the Hustons retaliated by charging Ruder with carrying a revolver.

District No. 5, town of Port Edw. yards, will have a modern two-story school house when the building it is contemplated to erect is completed. The new building is to be of concrete blocks, brick or wood, get the building committee and school board may determine later, depending upon the bids received for the contract to be let on or before September 10. The plans and specifications are for a building 30x40, two stories, with basement, the building to be ready for use November first.

This has not been a good season for cucumber growing in this vicinity. The amount raised being less than last year. CURE FOR INFLUENZA.

Physician Suggests a Simple Remedy For This Prevalent Disease.

The treatment for which I suggest a fair trial and which I invariably adopt is abundantly simple and is as follows: Take the following patient take twelve drops of cinnamon oil, and repeat the dose in an hour. Two hours after this second dose let the patient take ten drops of the oil, and then let him go on taking ten drops every two hours with out intermission till the temperature falls to normal or possibly a little under; let the patient take ten drops of the oil three times a day for a day or two.

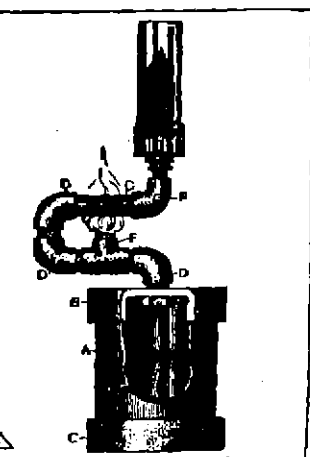

In every disease probably the sooner the patient is placed under treatment the better, and this is pre-eminently the case in influenza. And if a patient suffering from this disease is systematically treated with cinnamon oil in the manner above described within three or four hours from the onset of the disease I think it will probably be found that the temperature will have returned to normal within twelve hours. But if the patient is not put under treatment for a couple of days it will probably be at least twenty-four or thirty hours before the temperature becomes normal.

After the temperature has fallen to normal the patient should remain in his room for at least twenty-four hours and if possible should remain indoors for a further period of two or three days. But many cases that had been submitted early to treatment—cases of robust persons under forty years of age, and whose engagements were pressing—I have permitted to return to their occupations after only twenty-four hours' rest and so far without any untoward result. But I always advise that patients should remain indoors for two or three days if they possibly can.

Especially should they be urged to do so in those cases where the disease has been allowed to run for a day or two before being submitted to treatment. Each dose of cinnamon oil should be taken in half a wineglass or a wineglass of water. The oil can be obtained from any respectable druggist in any town.—Dr. J. C. Ross in Leslie's Weekly.

Homemade Alcohol Lamp.

An alcohol lamp which will prove very useful to the student draftsman or mechanic is shown in the accompanying illustration. A piece of two and a half inch pipe (A) about three and a half inches long is fitted with caps (B and C), the cap B being tapped for a three-eighths inch pipe in the center. Three three-eighths inch pipe (D), one three-eighths inch by one-eighth inch (E) and one three-eighths inch by one-eighth inch (F) are connected with three-eighths inch nipples and arranged to support the incandescent burner, as shown.

A cotton wick extends through all the fittings and terminates in a knot at the end of the long nipple (G). If it is found difficult to pass the wick through the fittings they may be strung on the wick in the proper order before being screwed together.

A portion of the wick is pulled up at E and is used to furnish the necessary heat for vaporizing the alcohol in G. If desired a small metal cap can be made to cover the wick at E and thus prevent the evaporation of the alcohol when the lamp is not in use.

Oil Burning Locomotives.

Oil locomotives are to be used hereafter in climbing Pike's peak. Although the Manitou and Pike's peak railway is only nine miles in length, the grade is very steep, and especially constructed engines have to be used to make the ascent of the famous peak. The new locomotives have another novel feature. Each axle is fitted with a driving gear, which lies unusually close to the roadbed. The boilers of this old appearing locomotive are so set that when the engine is on a 10 per cent grade the tubes are horizontal.—Technical World Magazine.

Cure for Red Nose.

In the old town of Noreen there lived a middle-aged man who was notorious on account of his drinking ability. The result of this was a red nose, which was the cause of much annoyance to him.

One day while casually glancing over the advertisements in a daily paper the following caught his eye: "Cure for red noses; fee, $2. Write so and so," etc.

Highly elated at finding a cure for his annoyance, without hesitation he sent the required fee, and in a short time received a slip of paper on which was written: "I will cure your red nose. Drink more and it will become purple."—Judge.

It is the man who is not afraid of the present that need not fear the future.

A New York woman, 45 years old, the credit for her 107 years. In her 107 years she is still strong.

If you want to be told that "nothing does not hurt you, go to a doctor who uses the word."

A right to put down the rest of the world does not mean the purchase of an automobile.

Mark Twain can tell his jokes for 50 cents a word, but what does he do when he wants a nickel?

There is nothing of building "out of the earth" highways for pedestrians. This is the automobile age.

The new popular bill, appear to be the most popular, yellow-backed literature ever put on the market.

A St. Louis man has just married because he was tired of being alone. He is not a bachelor, but a married man.

Additional thing, who says that Japan was to have a peace with the world? A peace which does not mean a pool of blood.

A Chicago lawyer says that he has had a bad case on nothing but water. When he is ready to come out, he will be a "water" man.

A St. Paul man has just married because he was tired of being alone. He is not a bachelor, but a married man.

A Chicago man, who has been married for 10 years, has just married because he was tired of being alone. He is not a bachelor, but a married man.

The foundation stone of the temple of peace, according to the Bible, is laid, which is more than can be said for the foundation stone of peace.

The world's history can be read in the Bible, according to the Bible. The Bible is the history of the world.

Mark Twain says he understands Earth better than the Bible. He says that the Bible is a book of lies, and that the Bible is a book of lies.

There are many people who are not afraid of the present that need not fear the future.

PEST MOSQUITO MUST GO

Municipalities Being Unable to Eradicate Yellow Fever, Governor Creates a National Health Department.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 28.—Despatching of the ability of the Cuban municipalities to keep the cities clean and free from yellow fever, the central government has at last formally undertaken the task. Chief Surgeon Juan Vial, who was appointed to head the new department, has just arrived in Havana. He is the only person in the world who has been appointed to head the new department.

From this time on, the work of disinfection and the extermination of the pest mosquito will proceed under the direction of officers appointed by Gov. Magoon. In most cases, the work of the army or marine hospital services.

In the opinion of Gov. Magoon, as set out in a cablegram received at the war department today, the yellow fever will be eradicated within six weeks. There may be a few sporadic cases during the period, but there is no danger of an epidemic. Surgeon Vial reports that he has been in Cuba for four months and has seen no cases of yellow fever.

The foundation stone of the temple of peace, according to the Bible, is laid, which is more than can be said for the foundation stone of peace.

The world's history can be read in the Bible, according to the Bible. The Bible is the history of the world.

MAN-A-LIN Is An Excellent Remedy for Constipation

There are many ailments directly dependent upon constipation, such as indigestion, nervousness, and pimples on the face, inactive liver, dyspepsia, overworked kidneys and headache.

Remove constipation and all of these ailments disappear.

MAN-A-LIN can be relied upon to produce a gentle action of the bowels, making pills and drastic cathartics entirely unnecessary.

A dose or two of Man-a-lin is advisable in slight febrile attacks, la grippe, colds and influenza.

A noted English artist was standing at the edge of the road, waiting for his horse and he was dressed in his usual peculiar style—mustard-colored riding suit, vivid waistcoat and bright red tie. He stared at the famous artist for a minute in silence, then he touched his cap and asked in a tone of deep commiseration: "Pardon, my dear, was you in mourning for anybody?"

Past week an Unusual One for Severe Hurts Among the Boys

Emil Kereven met with an accident on Friday which will leave him cripple for life. It being the loss of two fingers and the thumb of the right hand.

The lad, who is only 11 years of age was working about a circular saw when his hand came in contact with the saw, cutting off the fingers as stated above. Dr. Backwell, soon amputated what dressed the wound and the boy has since been resting easily.

Emil had been working under a perch from the county judge and it was his intention to quit work on the following day and return to school.

Received a Bad Cut
Leo Zahawa, who was employed at the Oberbeck Bros. Furniture factory received a bad cut from a cleaver saw on Friday while at work.

The boy's left arm came in contact with a saw in such a manner that the arm was nearly severed. The wrist, both bones being saved and the hand hanging only by a part of the flesh on the under side.

The boy was taken home and surgical assistance summoned at once, and Dr. Hingston took charge of the case, assisted by Dr. Waters. After examination it was decided that it might be possible to save the hand, and the large artery passing thru the wrist had not been severed. The hand was put back into place and the tendons joined and fastened, and at last results the process of healing was going forward nicely, with every evidence of an ultimate cure.

If the hand is saved and the young fellow recovers the use of it, he may consider that he has had about as narrow an escape as ever happens.

Was Seriously Injured
John Smith of the east side met with a peculiar and severe accident on an early hour Sunday morning.

He had been to a party at the August Kurtz home and was on his way home with a number of companions when he was struck by a rig and run over, sustaining injuries that rendered him unconscious for several hours.

It seems that when the young people were on their way home it was dark and the approaching rig made so little noise that they did not hear anything of it, and one of the lads struck young Smith on the chest, knocking him to the ground, after which the buggy passed over him.

He was picked up and brought to town by his companions and was still unconscious when his home was reached, but medical assistance was summoned and he has since been getting along fairly well and it is expected that he will soon be all right again.

Has a Bad Eye
John Mrow got a particle of iron in his eye on Monday while operating an emery wheel in the plant of the Grand Rapids Foundry Co., which caused him considerable pain until it was removed by a surgeon, the iron being imbedded in the eyeball.
He was compelled to lay off for a time on account of the trouble.

Johnson-Nash
Miss Maurine Johnson and James Nash were married on Monday in Denver Col., where Mr. Nash has been spending some time for the benefit of his health.

The wedding was quite a surprise to their friends here, although the relative knew of the event. Both of the contracting parties are well known here, the bride being the daughter of Mrs. N. Johnson and the groom the son of T. E. Nash. The Tribune unites with their many friends in extending the heartiest of congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Nash are expected home the latter part of October.

Confirmation Services
On Sunday, September 8th, there will be confirmation services in the Norwegian Moravian church. Service at 10 o'clock. A class of nine will be confirmed on that day. Communion services will be held at 7 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Norwegian Moravian Ladies Aid society will meet at the residence of Henry Hark on Thursday afternoon.

Distributed Lots of Cash.
The Advertisers figure that during the campaign which was held in this city during the past two weeks, the sum of $25,000 was spent by those in attendance. This was not all left in town but a large share of it was taken out of the city. The grounds contained about 100 tons and much of the time it was almost impossible to find accommodations for all in attendance.

Church Announcement.
Robert Kretlow will preach at the First Moravian church Sunday, Sept. 8th, at the morning and evening services. The evening service will begin at 7:30 and will be conducted in the English language. Sunday school and O. E. will be held at the usual hours.

Change in Harness Shops

harness shop of Bassett and Company on the east side. Mr. Landry intends to put a man in charge of the place and continue to run it, and will conduct his west side shop as usual.

The Tigers played two games at Berlin last week and won one game and lost one. On Thursday the score was 3 to 2 in favor of Berlin, it being a close contest all the way thru.
On Friday, however, the Berlin boys were trimmed up to the queen's taste, the score being 16 to 2 in favor of Grand Rapids. Every man on the team made at least one run and most of them two. There was no show for Berlin at any stage of the game. The Beyers pitched for the Tigers a Friday and threw a good game.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Witter entertained a party of friends on Monday at their home. The day was spent very pleasantly by those in attendance.

A number of the friends of Miss Ruby Naitwick surprised that young lady on Thursday evening and had a very pleasant time. The evening was spent in playing games and kindred amusements.

Mrs. George M. Hill entertained her Sunday school class on Monday at a picnic, the event being in honor of Nellie Palmatier, who has been a member of the class and who is soon to leave the city. The picnic was held in the grove south of the North western bridge and the young people spent a very pleasant afternoon.

A surprise party was given to Horace Palmatier and Wm. Damsen on Friday at the home of the latter. A very enjoyable evening was spent by those present.

At the twenty of Miss Angel Hor-man's friends surprised her at her west side home on Wednesday the occasion being her fifteenth birthday.
The evening was spent in playing games and the result was a very good time.

Stock Fair Tuesday.
Next Tuesday is the date for the regular monthly stock fair which will be held on the east side market square in this city. The date of the fair is Sept. 10th and should be remembered by those who have anything to dispose of.

there is a calf born good for a year old calf, also of light build of good weight.

Sheep are also being sold and as well as chickens. Garland door will be given to a person bringing in the largest number of eggs to Geo.
T. Rowland, agent.

Don't forget the date, Tuesday,
September 10th.

A grassed pig will be released on the market square at 2:30 o'clock and the race will be open to all, the person capturing the animal being entitled to it.

Federation Meeting.
The next regular meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs will be held at the home of Mrs. P. J. Wool on Friday evening September 13 at eight o'clock.

Miss L. E. Stearns of the Wisconsin
Free Library Commission will speak on the subject "Regulate your Hobby." This lecture is highly recommended by those who have heard it and we are looking forward to it with pleasure.

Each member may bring one guest.
Mrs. Stearns will also speak to the members of the public schools Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the Library, on the subject "Teacher's Responsibility in the Formation of Character."

Townhawk and Grand Rapids
The game on Sunday between Townhawk and Grand Rapids was pretty much of a farce, as during the eighty minutes the Townhawk boys packed up their traps and left the field. The score was 12 to 1 in favor of Grand Rapids and there was no chance of Townhawk winning, when a decisive victory was secured. The Townhawk boys and they left the field without any discussion whatever.
It was the intention to play two games with the Town-hawk, nine but they did not stay over for Monday's game, which was probably just as well, as there would not have been any turnout to witness an one sided contest as it promised to be.

The Townhawk boys came here expecting to show Grand Rapids some points about baseball, and the fact that they were outclassed probably discouraged them.

MAGGON GETS BUSY

TAKES SANITATION OF CUBA INTO HIS OWN HANDS.

PEST MOSQUITO MUST GO

Municipalities Being Unable to Eradicate Yellow Fever, Governor Creates a National Health Department.

Washington.—Despairing of the ability of the Cuban municipalities to keep the cities clean and free from yellow fever, the central government has at last formally undertaken that task. Chief Surgeon Keau called the war department Monday upon his return from Cienfuegos, which he says is at present the only place where yellow fever prevails, that Gov. Magdon had signed the decree nationalizing the sanitation.

From this time on the work of disinfection and the extermination of the yellow fever mosquito will proceed under the direction of officers appointed by Gov. Magdon, most cases of the army or marine hospital service.

In the opinion of Gov. Magdon, as set out in a cablegram received at the war department Monday, the yellow fever will be eradicated in a few weeks. There may be a few sporadic cases during the period, but there is no danger of an epidemic. Surgeon Keau reports five new cases in Cienfuegos, making ten in all, but these were not confirmed. All of the soldiers among civilians. All of the soldiers were not that affected, with one exception have been discharged as cured, and that one is convalescent.

Provisions of the Decree.

Havana.—A decree creating a national department of sanitation has been signed by Gov. Magdon and is to become effective upon the perfection of the organization. The personnel of the department will consist of one chief and a national board of five members, holding office for four years. This board will have full control of the sanitation of Cuba, supplying all local boards.

Up to the present time the inefficiency of the local sanitary authorities and their failure to report yellow fever cases has thwarted all the efforts to stamp out the disease. I. J. Keau, of the medical corps, reported four months ago upon the urgent necessity of national control in sanitary matters and this has been emphasized by the recent outbreak of yellow fever among the American troops at Cienfuegos.

DOUBLE KILLING IN HOTEL.

Indiana Man Shoots Woman and Himself in Chicago.

Chicago.—Miss Ida Ethel Haine, 25 years old, was shot and killed in the Saratoga hotel Monday afternoon by Charles E. Higgins, 40 years old, formerly a restaurant keeper in Elkhart, Ind., with whom she had lived as wife for two months. After he had made sure the woman was dead, Andrews shot himself in the chest. He died at the police hospital.

Miss Haine came from California last Sunday night with Andrews. From letters found in the trunk it is thought she was a resident of Florida. The letters told plainly the story of the man's infatuation for the woman. All the facts in the case go to show that he killed her in a moment of desperation that came to him as he realized that he could not keep her in the style they had grown accustomed to during his stay in the city.

Andrews deserted his wife and son seven years ago and eloped with a waitress in his restaurant. Later he deserted the waitress when he met Miss Haine.

The murder was a brutal one. Miss Haine, who was in a rooming house, was shot as she sat at a writing desk writing a letter to Andrews' son, Charles E. Andrews, Jr., of Elkhart. It is supposed that Andrews started to detain the letter. It broke off suddenly, as if some dispute had arisen over the writing.

Small Urged to Take This Step by Southern Telegraphers.

New York.—A proposal to call out all the telegraph operators employed by brokerage firms, regardless of whether those firms have signed the union scale or not, is the latest in the strike of the telegraphers.

President Small Tuesday received a message from southern telegraphers urging that this step be taken. He replied that the men must remain at work until the question of further instructions from the governing body of the union, and at the same time called a meeting of all the men employed in brokerage houses in New York for Wednesday afternoon, at which time the question of whether they shall join the strike will be discussed.

SIX WEEKS FOR PRACTICE

BATTLESHIPS WILL THEN PREPARE FOR PACIFIC CRUISE.

Route for Return Trip Not Settled—Several Commanding Officers Will Be Relieved.

Washington.—The Atlantic fleet under Admiral Evans, which sailed from Hampton Roads Monday, will remain for two weeks at the southern end of the Chesapeake, and then will sail for the Pacific coast, where they will be in the line of battle for six weeks, according to the plan of the navy department.

The package, which was collected from a box in the northern section of the city, was received by Clark Robb, the Chesapeake caper, practicing field and squadding formation. They will make the regular fall target practice, lasting probably four more weeks.

Acting Secretary Newberry said Tuesday the ships would then go to the navy yards in rearranged order, where in two weeks they should be put in perfect condition, the actual start for the Pacific cruise being made about the middle of December. None of the officers so far prepared by the navy department is final. If the decision is to return to the Pacific, the return by way of Cape of Good Hope the rest will sail from San Francisco about the end of next summer straight away across the Pacific, calling at Honolulu and probably heading thence for Australia. If the latter decision is adopted, the ships will be in the Pacific for a longer period.

What was in the package aside from the explosive can the officials will not say.

NEBRASKA MOB LYNCHES A MAN.

Hangs Laborer Who Killed Farmer and Wife Last Spring.

Omaha, Neb.—Loris Higgins, who murdered W. L. Copley, a farmer, and his wife, near Rosalia, Neb., May 12, was lynched at Bancroft Monday. Sheriff Young of Thurston county came to Omaha Sunday night to get his prisoner, who had been in the hands of the Nebraska state police since he was captured at Rosalia, and took him to Bancroft on a train which arrived there about eight o'clock in the morning. Twenty men took Higgins from the sheriff, hauled him off in a drag and hung him to a tree.

What the sheriff left for Omaha Sunday he was asked by citizens at Bancroft, who asked him what he would do if they should attempt to lynch Higgins.

"Shoot the first man who tries it," he said.

"What I just wanted to know," Higgins said, "was whether the chances are you will have some shooting to do."

Higgins' crime was a wanton one. He had worked on the Copley farm and had some trivial dispute with Mr. Copley. Anger over this is the only suggestion of a reason for the murder.

The man who shot Higgins was a young man, and after his arrest became radically religious participating in every service held at the jail.

PEACE NOW ASSURED

CENTRAL AMERICAN CONFERENCE WILL BE ARRANGED.

MEDIATION IS OFFERED

President Roosevelt and President Diaz Proffer the Good Offices of the United States and Mexico.

Washington.—President Roosevelt and President Diaz simultaneously have telegraphed notes to the presidents of the five republics of Central America offering the good offices of the United States and Mexico. There is a meeting at a conference of the republics for a discussion of plans to maintain peace.

The assurance that this action had been taken was made Wednesday by Acting Secretary Adee, of the state department. It was stated also that the notes would not be made public here until they had been received by the Central American states, and probably not until replies had been received. The exact time of sending the notes was not made public, but it is possible that replies from some of the countries already have reached Washington.

Mr. Adee late Wednesday received Minister Gomez, chief of affairs of the Mexican embassy, and they conferred at length concerning the steps being taken looking to the settlement of Central American disputes and ending the almost incessant warfare between the republics. Neither would admit that the Central American republics had been invited to hold the conference at Washington. But Senor Cerna, the Nicaraguan minister, is authorized for the statement that such an invitation soon will be extended. In fact, he telegraphed President Zelaya to that effect.

In diplomatic circles here it is said that none of the Central American republics can afford to decline to accept the proffers of mediation made by the United States and Mexico, and that this means that permanent peace practically is assured.

AMONG CRANBERRY MEN.

CRANBERRY EXPERIMENT STATION NOTES.

By J. H. HARRIS, U. S. A.

Concerning Frosts

Paper of Professor Henry J. Cox, District foreman of Chicago, read at the W. S. C. G. Association summer meeting.

For the past three years the weather has been doing some special work in the cranberry marsh region of Wisconsin, with a view to securing data that might result in an improvement in the forecasts and frost warnings for the benefit of the growers.

Experiment Station Notes

The weather the past week has been very favorable for the cranberry crop and another ten days of such weather would mean a great deal to the growers.

At present on the Experiment Station has colored up so nicely the last few days that it is now difficult to distinguish between the sound and worm eaten berries on the infested plants.

The frost worm is at work yet but seems to be a little check to its progress and in another ten days we expect the majority of them to have left the berries.

"Picking" is one of the topics of the day and now and then we find knots of men discussing the feasibility of opening the season the 1st or the 15th and from all appearances there will be a general movement to the bog the whole week.

We believe, however, that if all harvesting started the 1st it would be more for the general good and make things a little simpler.

Judge G. S. Purdy of Honesdale, Pa., and manager Johnson of the Wray & Purdy bog at Valley Jet looked over the Oronook district Saturday.
